Contents

Part I Getae-Dacians History and Religion in Ancient Sources 1

1 Introduction 3

2 Brief Overview of Recent Theories on the Indo-Europeans' Homeland 9

3 Cucuteni-Tripolye: The Indo-European Homeland? 17

4 Some Recent Genetic and Archaeological Conclusions 25

5 Daco-Romanian Language: An Indo-European Branch 29

Part II Comparative Method: Myth, Fairy Tale, Folk Tale 39

6 The Development of the Comparative Method 41

7 The Concept of Myth 45

8 Myth Between Symbol and Metaphor 53

9 Myth and Fairy Tales 63

10 Mythic Time Versus Fairy Tale Time 69

Part III Traits of Indo-European Mythic Motifs in Romanian Folk Stories 73

11 The Mythic Motif of Man's Creation 75

12 Cosmogony: Fârtat and Nefârtat, the Romanian Twins among the Indo-European Divine Twins 83

13 God 'Dumnezeu' and the Creation of Earth, Sky, Mountains in Romanian Beliefs 97

14 The Romanian Goddess Ileana Simziana: The Sun and the Moon Marriage 109

15 The Sun and a Mortal Girl Marriage: The Romanian Song of Cicoarea 'The Chicory' 121

16 The 'Deer Hunt' Motif in the Romanian Wedding Ceremony 125

17 Romanian Feminine Spirits iele, rusalii, șoimane 141

18 The Romanian Păcală among the Indo-European Tricksters 145

19 The Hero Slaying the Dragon in the Romanian Song Iovan Iorgovan 153

20 Youth Rivalry Fights: From Nart Sagas to the Romanian Song Miorița 169

21 Metamorphoses in Myth and Fairy Tales 181

22 Metamorphoses in Youth Initiation Rites 191

23 The Romanian Folk Story "The Enchanted Pig": The Motif 'Beauty and the Beast' 199

24 Indo-European Social Structures and Youth Initiation Rites in Romanian Folk Customs 205

25 Father Christmas: Romanian Moş Crăciun—A Solar Myth 215

26 Conclusions 229

Part IV Daco-Romanian Language Position Among the Indo-European Languages 235

27 The Daco-Romanian Cultural Vocabulary 237

Appendix 257

Bibliography 389

Index 411